

Embassy Embatini

A Dinner Affair on the Embassy Stage

Since 1928, the Embassy Theatre has been the crown jewel of downtown Fort Wayne and the surrounding counties. It is loved and beloved for its historic beauty and its reputation for top-quality headliners. It is the mission of the Embassy Theatre Foundation, Inc., a nonprofit organization that receives no tax-dollar support, to maintain and preserve the building while providing the finest of entertainment.

On April 14, 2010, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. we will present The Embatini on the historic stage to benefit the Embassy Theatre. The dinner affair will offer fine food, cocktails, musical demonstrations on the Grande Page Theater Pipe Organ by Cletus Goens II and Embassy history.

“Through the years, I have had the pleasure of watching many concerts and plays perform on the historic Embassy Theatre stage. Last Spring, I had the opportunity to attend the Embatini luncheon, a fundraiser held on the Embassy stage. My mom and I had great food and cocktails, watched musical demonstrations on the Grande Page Theatre Pipe Organ, learned more about Embassy history and went on a backstage tour. We had such a fun afternoon there. What a smart way to fundraise!”
